President's Report

WOW how time flies!

The last two years have flown by, it seems like just a few days ago I stepped into our Chapters President position and now it's time to hand the reigns off to another board member. I want to thank the board for their support and guidance the last two years. They are my friends and they helped make my term run smoothly, and we had fun too, like friends do.

We can always use some new blood on our board as lately we have had a couple of openings not filled. Step forward and ask one of our board members if you can help. The board meets once a month except for October (we're all hunting) and for the most part is fun and rewarding. If you love hunting as we do you will be a valuable addition to our board and will feel a sense of satisfaction helping our chapter promote and protect our hunting rights.

We encourage you to take kids hunting, the upcoming small game season is a great way to get youngsters started. But, the DNR now recommends that to make a quick addition(s) to our hunting ranks we should mentor more adults who haven't had a chance to hunt. Adults have their own transportation, extra money to spend and when they start hunting on their own, they will bring their family and friends into our hunting fold. Check out the DNR website for more info on mentoring!

I want to wish you all a successful upcoming hunting season and thank you all for belonging to our chapter.

Thanks again for your support,

Don Van De Steene

President

Michigan's Wildlife Action Plan

Michigan's variety of wildlife is a big part of our state's history, identity and appeal. These animals enhance our quality of life, and protecting their habitats also provides cleaner water, air and land for us. Uncommon animals can be critical indicators of the health of Michigan's natural areas. Some animals are cherished Michigan icons, like the Kirtland's warbler – the rarest migratory songbird in North America – the loon with its haunting call, or the ancient lake sturgeon.

Thoughtful wildlife and habitat conservation also supports Michigan's multibillion-dollar natural resources economy, giving us places to hike, bike, boat, fish and hunt, or simply enjoy wildlife and the quiet and peace of nature. Wildlife elevates the beauty of our state's woods and water. Michigan's Wildlife Action Plan is a partner-developed, strategic framework for cooperatively achieving that conservation.

Today's priorities, tomorrow's wildlife

Piping Plover

Conservation partners across the state worked together to identify priorities and goals for a 10-year period (2015-2025). They first selected water and land habitats on which to focus, and then identified priority species within those habitats, needed actions, and links to other Michigan wildlife conservation and restoration plans.

Key habitat types/focus areas and priority wildlife include:

Rivers and streams

Warmwater streams and their headwaters, big rivers, the St. Clair-Detroit River system

Priority wildlife include lake sturgeon, snuffbox and riverine clubtail dragonfly.

Lakes

Inland lakes that support populations of our rare, native cisco (members of the whitefish family) species and shoreline areas

Priority wildlife include starhead topminnow, cisco and Blanchard's cricket frog.

Great Lakes

Habitat for Great Lakes cisco, an ecologically and economically important group of fishes, as well as dunes and other Great Lakes shoreline habitat

Priority wildlife include kiyi, piping plover and common tern.

Wetlands

A variety of wetland types found near the Great Lakes and Michigan's inland lakes, rivers and streams

Priority wildlife include black tern, cerulean warbler, copperbelly watersnake and poweshiek skipperling.

Lake Sturgeon

Great Lakes Cisco

Copperbelly Watersnake

Key habitat types/focus areas and priority wildlife continued

Grasslands

Large grasslands, prairies and savannas

Priority wildlife include Karner blue butterfly, rusty-patched bumble bee, eastern box turtle and Henslow's sparrow.

Forests

Young forests, generally less than 20 years old, and sandy pine forests in northern Michigan

Priority wildlife include Kirtland's warbler, golden-winged warbler and eastern massasauga rattlesnake.

Emerging diseases

New diseases can have significant effects on wildlife populations, especially species that already are considered rare

Priority wildlife include northern long-eared bat and little brown bat.

Actions needed

Michigan's Wildlife Action Plan calls for conservation partners to work together to:

- Manage habitat and invasive species to make places healthier for wildlife and people.
- Conduct research and surveys to improve how we conserve wildlife and its habitats.
- Teach people about wildlife.
- Protect natural places for wildlife and people.

Working together, we can keep these unique animals around and thriving for future generations. And when we make places better for rare wildlife, we make places better for all of Michigan's wildlife and citizens.

Our Chapter Wish Fishing Trip For 3 Kids

On June 19 of this year our chapter sponsored Lucy Taylor 7, ( who is dealing with Spina Bifida), along with Dyllan Keener age 13, (who is dealing with Autism), and 9 year old Jordan Bibb (who is also dealing with Spina Bifida) along with their fathers on a walleye fish trip.

Our host; Captain Myron Gilbert of M & M Charters (517-592-3376). Myron has been donating fishing charters to the Safari Wish Program for many years.

When I greeted everyone at Toledo Beach Marina I noticed that Jordan was wearing camo. I asked her if she is ready to go hunting and she said she would love to shoot a deer someday. Check out the story about youth hunt for youngster that we do each August at the Legends Ranch.

Usually it takes about 4-5 hours to get a limit of walleyes. This was the first time I have ever seen them limit out in just 2 hours. Myron loves to take kids on wish fishing trips and it very apparent when you look at his warm smile . None of the kids or dads had ever been on a walleye charter before and they couldn't thank Myron and SCI Southeast Michigan Bowhunters Chapter enough.

Myron cleaned and fileted the fish and the families will have a great story to tell for a long time. Thanks Myron for all you do for these deserving youngsters.

SHAP Camp 2018

Our 24th year doing the State Hunter Apprentice Program (SHAP) was one of the nicest I can remember. The temperatures were in the mid 80's with blue skies. This was our 11th year at the Echo Grove Camp ran by our friends at the Salvation Army. As usual, the new staff at Echo Grove did everything they could to make our camp run smooth for us and the kids. Tina and Alan Lake were our assigned hosts and did a terrific job. The folks at the Salvation Army are the best people on earth!

On Saturday evening we enjoyed the fantastic Birds of Prey program presented by Joe and Barb Rogers with Joann Williams from the Wildlife Recovery Association. The kids and staff were treated to seeing and in some cases, touching the birds of prey as they were carried around the room by Barb, Joann and Joe. Their Birds of Prey program is a fast-paced, extremely entertaining, first rate educational experience that can be brought into your kids' school at a very reasonable rate. Contact them to schedule their conservation friendly program for your school at www.wildliferecovery.org

If you look at the faces of the students who attended our SHAP course this year, you will see our next generation of sportsmen and women, new hunters who will carry the word of conservation

These SCI members donated three days of their lives so that 24 youngsters could receive their MDNR Hunter and Bowhunter Education certificates. Some people talk about how much they care about hunting, these gals & guys showed how much they care by giving of their time. On behalf of the kids and our chapter members I say THANK YOU to all of them!!!
