President's Report

At our July board meeting I was nominated and elected to be your President. It is an honor I readily accepted as I think our chapters is one of the best in all of S.C.I.

I would like to personally thank Don Van De Steene for the fine job he did as our past President. Good leadership is important to our chapter and protecting hunting from our enemies.

Going forward we have our hands full as times have changed and the future of hunting is faced with a lot of indifference from the hunting world. The anti-hunters continue to attack us daily and people still want to take our gun rights away. We must stand up and stress our core values as being the only true conservationists and protector of all our nations wildlife.

We have so much to be proud of, our Sportsman Against Hunger program give over 45,000 pounds of venison to Michigan food banks to feed people each year. The protein from our donated venison is many times the only protein they get each day.

Our State Hunter Apprentice Program (S.H.A.P.) camp trains our younger future hunters the importance of hunting and trains them in all aspects of firearm safety and bow hunting skills, while teaching them about the great tradition that hunting is to us all. It's important to get our youngsters away from computer games and learn how to enjoy the great outdoors.

We are so fortunate to belong to Safari Club International as they are one of the top leaders in the world in conservation and hunter educa

AWLS: A UNIQUE LEARNING EXPERIENCE 2019

Have you ever seen a soft-spoken kindergarten teacher shoot a rifle with deadly accuracy and lightning-quick speed? I have. Have you ever witnessed a high school special education teacher (who has never been out west) get to see her first moose up close and personal? I have. And have you ever watched a 7th grade teacher compete in a 3D archery competition with only about a week of archery experience...ever? I have.

I have done all of these things because, this summer, I had the opportunity to attend one of the most unique professional development sessions there is: American Wilderness Leadership School (AWLS).

AWLS is a week-long summer camp for teachers, located near Jackson Hole, Wyoming and run by Safari Club International Foundation.

Let me share a bit of my AWLS story with you:

I arrived at the beautiful Jackson Hole airport, with a backdrop of the Grand Teton mountains greeting me like noblemen greeting a queen. I was also greeted by an AWLS instructor and whisked away on a shuttle bus. The other teachers and I were taken down a long, winding, and very bumpy dirt road to the AWLS camp.

Somewhere along the way we lost cell service, and with that distraction aside, the wilderness wrapped us up in her arms for the week and welcomed us to our new home-away-from-home.

The camp actually went by in a blur of activity and learning. The instructors kept us busy from 6:45am until about 9pm, making for long days for me—a 6-month pregnant woman with serious Michigan-time-zone-jet-lag.

It was worth it, however.

During the week, I learned a lot about wildlife conservation and ecology in the classroom, but what made this experience unique were the hands-on opportunities. I learned survival skills, new archery skills, how to identify some common aquatic macroinvertebrates, and much more.

I had previous experience with pistols, but this week was the first time I have ever shot a rifle or a shotgun. I learned not to be afraid of the longer guns, and I am even proud to say I won our group's rifle competition—much to my surprise. (My shotgun skills, however, leave little to be desired!) Something else that surprised me was how much I enjoyed tying flies for fly fishing. This was probably one of my favorite activities of the week, and I can't wait to use those same flies to catch some fish!

We took field trips to Pinedale, Jackson Hole, The National Elk Refuge, and Grand Teton National Park. The other participants went on a whitewater rafting trip at the end of the week, while my pregnant-self was finally able to take a much-needed nap.

I made new friends and connections during this trip, not only with other teachers but with the instructors as well. Our crew grew so close that we now have our own Facebook group in which to communicate and share photos and ideas throughout the school year. This trip was a great one for making connections, and in the education world, connections are very important.

I have never been able to experience anything like this in all of my life, and I know this trip will greatly impact how I teach this school year. My goals are to bring the National Archery in the Schools program to my school and to use the Project WILD curriculum regularly in my classroom. I want to try to bring my students outside into nature more often and strive for more ways to get them involved in science topics in a hands-on way. I already have plans to do some aquatic macroinvertebrate sampling with my science group this year. I want to continue to partner with the Michigan DNR to bring outside resources into my classroom, and I have already made a contact with MUCC (Michigan United Conservation Council) about getting their TRACKS outdoor magazine in my class.

All of these experiences would have never been possible without the support of the Southeast Michigan Bowhunters chapter of Safari Club International. Without your blessing and your sponsorship, I would never have been able to attend AWLS. From the bottom of my heart I wish to thank you for your kindness. You have not only impacted my own life, but you—in the classic ripple effect of throwing a stone into still water—have impacted the lives of all of the students I will teach this year and in years to come.

Thank you for spreading the important message of conservation to the generations that will follow our own. You are truly making a difference.

Detroit Area Kids Fishing Derby

Another Great Tradition

On June 22, 2019 I was joined by fellow Chapter board members Ralph Cagle and James Wandrie as we attended the 23rd. annual Detroit Area Kids Fishing Derby held at Palmer Parks Lake Frances, Detroit, Michigan

Gary Williams-President of Hook Line and Sinker, Inc. and Detroit Recreation Department has held this great event for 23 years. This year's weather was absolutely gorgeous, with great temperatures and plenty of sunshine. The event attracted over four hundred youngsters from across the Metropolitan Detroit area with tremendous support of over local 70 volunteers. Over three hundred parents, grandparents, and family members attended.

Our Chapters job is to work in the tackle shop to assemble the rods with hooks, sinkers and bobbers and re-rig rods as the youngsters always have some horrific tangles.

The youngsters are always polite with a yes sir or no sir.

The day is broken down in 2 sessions, morning and evening. With a stage presentation of prizes for the kids at each segment.

23rd Annual Detroit Area Kids Fishing Derby held at Palmer Parks Lake Frances, Detroit, Michigan

The youngsters always have a great time as they enjoy free hot dogs, pop and chips. There are clowns making balloon hats and Mounted Police, all interacting with adults of all ages watching youngsters as young as 3 years old catching fish, many for the first time, getting them introduced to the Michigan outdoors is a beautiful sight.

Once again due to the overwhelming response of the children, youth, families, volunteers and sponsors, the 24th annual Detroit Area Kids Fishing Derby has been scheduled for Saturday June 6, 2020.

I am looking forward to attending again next year as it is such an inspiration to see the next generation of kids join and take part in the great outdoors.

DOING

GOOD®

June 11, 2019

Mr. Ralph Cagle
S.C.I. Southeast Michigan Bowhunters Chapter
626 E. Coy
Hazel Park, MI 48030

Dear Mr. Cagle,

Thank you for participating in our 13th Sporting Clay Event for youth. Your generous contribution of $1,250.00 will help our youth learn about the great outdoors.

The Salvation Army outdoors is a program that provides youth an opportunity to learn and experience different activities outside. With today's highly technological opportunities, many children do not get to experience the trails, water, boating, fishing, archery, and target shooting. Many of the children we serve are surrounded by the city effects, and some have never even seen a frog! Your generous gift will make it possible for many deserving children to experience the great outdoors.

We at the Salvation Army are continually inspired by the dedication and generosity of friends like you who answer the call to participate. We sincerely appreciate your support for this program.

Thank you for believing in The Salvation Army's mission.

Sincerely,
