President's Report

Steve Tunison President

My name is Steve Tunison and I am your new Chapter President. My first order of business is to thank Robert Delaurier for his outstanding job as President the last few years. He reshaped our fundraiser into the best it has ever been and he will still be around to help us keep things running in the future. Tricia Auten is our new Vice President and is anxious to start helping our Chapter set up our Fundraiser for 2026 at the wonderful Laurel Manor. Jeff Weisswasser remains as our Chapter Secretary and Kurt Bernas will again handle the tedious job of Chapter Treasurer.

We now have four new members for our Board of Directors, the first is Allen Domaniski who has been in SCI for a long time and brings with him many valuable resources for our Chapter. Next is Dr. Stanley Frye who also has a history of guiding SCI's Blue Bag medical donations for our African Hunting Donors. Additionally, Adam Griffinalso has a long and successful lifetime history with Safari Club International. Finally, Shayna Levin who will help our Chapter with her outstanding social media skills. Welcome to our Chapter! You can meet and greet these fine people at our upcoming December 5th Christmas Party see the enclosed flyer in this newsletter.

I look forward to the many challenges that I am about to face as your President but, I have three past Presidents, along with a Board of Directors that has a long history of running our Chapter to help guide me. I look forward to meeting you all at our Christmas Party. In the meantime enjoy our long hunting seasons!

Warm Regards,
Steve

My African Leopard Hunt

By Steve Tunison

I bought my African Hunt at our 2025 Chapter Fundraiser. Our Donor was Chris Du Plooy of Chris Du Plooy Safaris and after talking to several former clients I couldn't wait to go! The hunt I had always dreamed about was finally coming true! A Leopard hunt in Africa!

Chris worked with me to make the many preparations I needed to get to Namibia without the hassles of traveling with a firearm, airports many regulations. With his help in this everything went very smooth during my travel.

We flew out September 25, 2025, and would start hunting Monday the 29th. This would be a fourteen day leopard hunt in the country of Namibia. Prior to my arrival Chris and his Trackers found good leopard sign and started baiting to try and attract a leopard. The area I would be hunting was 380,000 acres and after scouting out this area Chris Du Plooy was able to find a large male leopard in the area he felt was the correct age and size to hunt. Africa is starting their summer weather when we are entering our winter. The temperature usually varies from 90-105 degrees during the day and can get into the high 50's at night.

Upon arrival to our lodge we had many firearms to choose from to make this leopard hunt successful. We all decided that a 6.5 creedmoor with the proper scope would be the best option.

After sitting in the rifle it was time to start the hunt!

During the mornings our main goal was to hunt plains game so we had enough bait for the leopard bait stations and also there were some plains game I would love to take for my trophy room. Zebra is the leopards favorite food as well as all villagers in the area. On the morning of day 2 we were able to harvest a large Zebra to help accomplish our main goal.

Now came time for long sits in the leopard blind in hopes for a chance to take a leopard. We had been checking cameras and over the last week the large male had not hit any of the baits as he has a very large area he covers so we felt good that he would show up eventually.

On our fourth evening the Leopard appeared as if by magic. I slowly raised my rifle and found him in my scope. He was 50 yards away and 10 feet up in the tree when my rifle scope found his chest. I had to be extra careful with the rifle safety otherwise it would make a "click" when I pushed it into the "fire" position. The proper shot is important on a leopard as the last thing you want is a wounded leopard you are tracking. Taking my time I was able to steady my rifle and with a good shot the leopard went only 10 yards from the tree before expiring. This experience was nothing short of what I hoped for on my first African Safari and words are very hard to express the whole experience for this article.

I would like to thank Chris Du Plooy and his Family for welcoming me on this hunt and making me feel like I was at home. The lodging the meals and hunt areas they provided for this hunt was incredible. If you are interested in an excellent African Safari for plains game or one of the big 5 I recommend Chris to any hunter and feel free to reach out to me if you would like to get more info on my experience with Chris Du Plooy Safaris.

Shooters of Any Level Should Enhance Their Game

Improving your shooting accuracy, confidence, and safety involves mastering fundamentals such as trigger control, stance, breathing, firearm handling, and practice routines.

1. Master Trigger Control and Recoil Management

- Squeeze Slowly: Avoid jerking the trigger; pull it smoothly to prevent shots from dropping below the target on pistols
- A useful drill is imagining moving your finger through thick peanut butter.
- Trigger Finger Placement: For rifles, place the tip or pad of your finger on the edge of the trigger to ensure a straight pull and better follow-through
- Flinch Awareness: Practice drills like the “ball and dummy” for pistols or gradual exposure to recoil on rifles to prevent flinching

2. Proper Stance and Positioning

- Stable Stance: For shotguns and pistols, maintain a squared or slightly forward-leaning stance to handle recoil and swing smoothly on moving targets
- Cheek Weld and Rifle Positioning: Ensure consistent cheek placement against the stock and maintain a comfortable position to reduce fatigue
- Use of Support: When shooting rifles, employ shooting sticks, benches, or elbows stabilized against your body to improve accuracy

3. Breathing and Focus Techniques

- Pause breathing briefly when taking the shot to reduce body movement, enhancing precision
- Develop a pre-shot routine, like the B.R.A.S.S. method (Breathe, Relax, Adjust, See the target, Slow down), especially for clay targets or hunting

4. Firearm Selection and Handling

- Avoid starting with very small pistols as smaller calibers may have stronger perceived recoil

- Choose rifles and shotguns you can comfortably control, considering weight, recoil, and ergonomics

- Dress appropriately: wear closed-toed shoes, safety glasses, and suitable clothing at the range to ensure comfort and safety

5. Regular and Recent Practice

- Practice frequently, but also practice recently before competitions or hunting trips to keep your skills sharp
- Repetition with focus strengthens muscle memory and accuracy.
- Incorporate drills for both stationary and moving targets to adapt to various shooting scenarios

6. Equipment Familiarization

- Learn your firearm’s characteristics including point of impact, choke patterns, and ammo performance
- Pattern each firearm to understand its unique performance in different conditions.
- Ensure the barrel is properly floated on rifles to maintain consistent vibration and shot placement

7. Take Professional Instruction

- Attend fundamentals classes, firearms training, or refresher courses to learn safe handling and advanced techniques from professionals
- Even experienced shooters benefit from instruction to correct subtle flaws and gain new tactical approaches.

By focusing on these areas—trigger control, posture, breathing, firearm handling, practice discipline, and education—shooters of any level can enhance their accuracy, consistency, and overall safety on the range in hunting or competitive settings.
